Transformation Trip Contributions Guidelines

Detach and keep for your records.

Introduction

The following guidelines regarding contributions for transformation trips sponsored by Mile High Vineyard (MHV) are intended to help participants as they seek to fund or raise financial support for the cost of their trip while at the same time helping participants, donors, and VC operate within published IRS regulations for charitable contributions.

Please note the following guidelines reflect MHV's understanding of current IRS regulations regarding charitable contributions and how these regulations may apply to the funding of transformation trips; however, as with all tax issues please consult with your tax advisor if you have questions regarding tax deductibility of charitable gifts.

1. Tax-deductible contributions

Contributions to MHV to help fund the costs of your own or another participant's transformation trip may be tax-deductible and MHV will issue a contribution statement/receipt based on the following criteria:

- The trip's primary purpose is missions work and is sponsored by Mile High Vineyard, including determining the timing and nature of the trip, qualifications for participants, and trip costs.
- MHV retains control of all funds and is responsible for the disbursement of all trip expenses.
- Donations are made by check and payable to Mile High Vineyard. (Please note: contributions directly made payable to a participant are not tax-deductible.)

2. Refunds and cancellations

2.1 If a participant cancels

If a participant is unable to go on their scheduled trip for any reason, contributions given toward their trip are not refundable.

However, all contributions, less any administrative and/or other costs incurred (e.g., air ticket cancellation fees, visa fees, etc.), will be placed into MHV's Missions account

2.2 If a trip is cancelled by the church

If a scheduled trip is cancelled for any reason by MHV, confirmed contributors to that trip will be notified and given the option to either: a. have their contribution returned to them by MHV; or b. have their contribution be retained by MHV to be used for another charitable purpose.

3. Overpayments

Any amounts contributed over the published cost of the trip cannot be refunded; instead these contributions will be applied towards general and/or common expenses of the particular trip or be used elsewhere at the discretion of MHV.
